Conservation Commission News...

Wetlands in Laconia are protected under the Wetlands Conservation and Water Quality Overlay District (Section 235-17 of the Laconia Zoning Ordinance). The Ordinance was established to encourage a protective buffer around wetlands to help protect natural resources and to allow for overflow flood potential.

The Planning Board is authorized to administer and grant Conditional Use Permits (CUP) for construction within this district. The Laconia Conservation Commission reviews CUP Permits and forwards comments to the Planning Board for inclusion in the decision.

As you begin to plan your spring landscaping projects please take into account some of the Overlay Districts provisions including: purchasing fertilizers that do not contain phosphorus, allowing natural buffers to be maintained 50-75 feet from any water way, avoiding grass in your landscape and planting some native vegetation! The Overlay District requires you to maintain at least a 50-foot buffer around any wetland. If you live on a significant stream a larger buffer may be required, so make sure to check with the Conservation Commission before you start work! Also, its important to avoid the destruction of man-made drainage ways and swales. These landforms are important in conveying water and making sure structures and roadways do not get flooded.

If you follow these few easy steps you to will be helping to maintain Laconia's ecological integrity. Please call the Planning Dept. at 527-1264 with any questions.

What Lies Beneath Winnepesaukee

Avid diver and history buff Hans Hug, Jr., will present the program “What Lies Beneath Winnepesaukee,” Friday, Feb. 21 at 1:30 p.m. at Taylor Community’s Woodside Building, 435 Union Ave.

Hug, of Exeter, has dived all over the lake in search of artifacts, shipwrecks and more. He’ll speak about his scuba diving adventures in the Big Lake and the things he has found there. Using old maps, photographs, historical research and high tech side-side-sonar, Hug has discovered many new and interesting things, including dozens of unknown shipwrecks. He’ll bring some of the items he’s found, as well as underwater photographs and sonar images, and will show a short video of one of the wrecks he located on the bottom of the lake.

This program is sure to delight lovers of the Big Lake as well as anyone who has an interest in history. The event is free and open to the public, but reservations are requested to ensure seating. Please call 524-5600, Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. or email rsvp@taylorcommunity.org.

Tagging....

The City has begun a new online program to streamline information sharing with the citizens of Laconia. The City will be "tagging" certain projects or initiatives that have generated a significant amount of community interest. This initiative will be a collaborative effort with the Laconia Daily Sun and the Citizen newspapers; they will be applying the same tag to their articles.

The tag assigned by the City can be used to search all online content associated with the item through the search engine of your choice. You can also search the City site using the assigned tag to view all associated content posted to the City website. A variety of information will be available for review including: agendas, minutes and other reference materials. A search of external content through a search engine may reveal information or opinions posted to blogs or social networking sites.

The first tag being used is for the Main Street Bridge reconstruction. Enter #laconiamainstbridge into your search engine and see what you find. As documents develop, we will continue to post more for the public.

If you have any comments or suggestions for this program please contact the City Clerk's Office at 527-1265 or email at city-clerk@city.laconia.nh.us.

Thank you!

German Town: The Lost Story Of Seaford Town, Jamaica is a documentary that explores the history of German heritage and history within Westmoreland Jamaica.

Deep within the isolated, undeveloped mountains of Westmoreland lies a village with a history and people unique to Jamaica. It is said that the inhabitants of this village are descendants of German indentured servants, who were used to work the Jamaican plantations after the emancipation period, to substitute the slave labor that drove the islands economy.

Others think they came under different circumstances such as runaway prisoners, former military battered after the Napoleonic wars, seeking a better life to escape poverty and hardships in their home lands. This documentary project explores the history and contemporary life of Jamaicans of German heritage.

FOG - FATS, OILS & GREASE

FOG is an acronym for (fats, oils, and grease); which are byproducts of food preparation, cooking, and clean-up.

FOG is found in such common things as:

Meat fat	Shortening
Lard	Food scraps
Cooking oil	Baking goods
Butter/margarine	Dairy products

FOG substances are not soluble in water. At high temperatures fats and grease will be in a liquid form and will go down the drain quite easily. But as the cooling process begins it starts to congeal and becomes a solid mass that sticks to the walls of sewer pipes. FOG also has corrosive properties. If not addressed, this accumulation may eventually block the sewer main and cause an unwelcome sewer backup in your home or in a street.

All households play an important role in preventing neighborhood sewer system blockages. The proper way to dispose of FOG in your home is to:

- Never pour grease, fats, or oil down the sink or garbage disposal.
- Pour FOG into jars, cans, and plastic tubs (careful, the liquid may be hot!) or a "Fat Trapper" container and let contents cool and solidify. When the container is full, throw it away with your trash.
- Mix cooking oil with an absorbent material such as cat litter or coffee grounds and place in a lidded container for disposal with your trash.
- With greasy pans, pour the grease into a container as mentioned above and dispose in the trash when cool.

We all need to join forces in protecting and maintaining our significant investment in the sanitary sewer collection system. §189-32 of the City Code outlines prohibited discharges into the sewer system.

If you have any questions, please call Dave Keets at the Public Works Department at 528-6379 Ext. 304.

Your diligence in properly managing Fats Oils & Grease will save you and the City costly repair expenses, not to mention the hassles associated with digging up the streets to repair sewer problems.
