Jewett Brook: Student Study and City Project Overview

For Anyone Interested In Jewett Brook

June 4, 2014 6:30 to 8 PM

Room 216 Laconia High School, 345 Union Ave., Laconia

This is an opportunity for residents living within the Jewett Brook watershed to hear what Laconia High School students have learned about the brook through scientific data collection and analysis, and to get a first-hand overview of the stream bank repair project facilitated by Laconia Public Works.

Agenda

6: 30 PM Welcome & Introductions

Meeting attendees and presenters introduce themselves.

6:35 PM Review Survey Results

Results of anonymous landowner survey shared with meeting attendees. There will be time to comment on the survey results and share additional information.

6:50 PM Laconia High School Presentation

Laconia High School students have been scientifically collecting data on Jewett Brook for many years. They will present their findings and report noticeable trends.

7:25 PM Laconia Public Works Project Overview

The Laconia Public Works Department (LPWD) will highlight its grant funded work on the former TD Bank property. The LPWD has been successful in obtaining funding from multiple sources in order to study the Jewett Brook watershed. Now, with additional funding, they are able address a location of concern for future flooding.

7:50 PM Wrap-Up

Final questions and meeting wrap-up.
